Death Of Mrs. Jenny. Our Candidates

The death of Mrs. Samuel Jenny, brief mention of which was made last week, occurred at the residence of Mrs. Emma Scheerer in this city on Oct. 25, 1916. Mrs. Jenny was living with Mrs. Scheerer at that time. Although feeble in health her death was unexpected.

Mrs. Jenny's maiden name was Marie Maurer. She was born May 9, 1841, at Stein on the Rhein, Switzerland. She came to America and settled in Boston about 45 years ago, where she married Mr. Jenny who was then a widower, and with him came to Tennessee, and was among the pioneer settlers at the Swiss colony in this county.

Her remains were laid to rest in the Tracy City Cemetery last Thursday. Rev. Mr. DuBose officiating.

For Floater

Grund County this year has the good luck of having two candidates for Floater. Capt. A. D. Hargis, and Mr. E. C. Norvell. These gentlemen are well known in this county as they have lived here practically all their life, and no one can say aught of their character.

Mr. A. D. Hargis has been a life long Democrat and a miner here for nearly 50 years and is one of the boys of the days of "61-65," and has saw the frost of many winters. He is a Christian gentleman and treats all alike.

Mr. E. C. Norvell, has been in business here for the last 15 or 20 years and no man has ever ask for a favor of him that he didn't grant it. He is a staunch Republican, and is in all respects a man of his word. He is a gentleman of the first water and has always worked for the up-building of Tracy City and Grund County.

Grund County is very fortunate to have two such men as candidates for this office, and all would well represent
